

WOODVILLE ASKS DEAL WITH SCHOOL

A favorable attitude was expressed by members of the Porterville Union High School and College district board when representatives of Woodville community appeared before the board Tuesday evening to ask if all or part of the Woodville elementary school district would be accepted into the Porterville district if the Woodville district, or a part of the district, withdrew from the Tulare Union High district.

Representing the Woodville area at the Porterville meeting were: Norval Monroe, Norman Vossler and John Hawthorne.

Situation is that for a number of years Woodville students have been attending Porterville high school, although the district line runs about two miles east of Woodville. A number of students in this year's graduating class at Woodville elementary school also desire to attend Porterville high, however, the Woodville district is part of the Tulare Union High district.

In years passed, agreement has been worked out between the Porterville and Tulare schools, for Woodville students to come to Porterville, however, school officials have indicated they would rather have the situation cleared up legally than to continue on the

Celebration To be Planned At Woodville

A celebration, marking the delivery of water by the public utility district, will be planned for the Woodville community at a meeting of the Woodville chamber of commerce and the Woodville Civic club tomorrow evening, Friday, at 8 o'clock in the Woodville school hall. A potluck supper will open the Friday meeting.

Tentative plans for the celebration call for an afternoon picnic, some type of entertainment and possibly a dance. Actual delivery of water by the utility district started this week, with final work on the water system is increased activity by the Woodville Volunteer Fire department, with regular training classes to start tonight under direction of the state division of forestry. Acting department chief is Walt Sommer.

FUNDS FOR 65 RIGHT-OF-WAY REQUESTED IN THIS YEAR'S STATE BUDGET; ROAD PLANS PROGRESSING

Three important points were covered at two meetings, during the past week concerning relocation of Highway 65:

1. Allocation for purchase of right-of-way in the area west of Porterville has been requested in the 1950-51 California state budget and if the funds are granted, actual purchase can be expected to start within the next few months;

2. Location of highway 65 west of Porterville is definitely "pinned down," 1320 feet west of Indiana, with tie-ins to the existing 65 highway south of Teapot Dome and at Zante;

3. The state is planning a grade separation at Olive street and a four-lane divided highway during initial construction in the area west of Porterville.

This information was given at a meeting of the Orange Belt

WATER TO MOVE DOWN CANAL

Irrigation district officials in the southern Tulare county area are expecting to see water in the Friant-Kern canal as far south as Deer Creek about July 1, it was stated this week, with plans being made by organized districts south of the Tule river to receive Central Valley project as it becomes available.

At present, project water is flowing in the Tule river and Porter slough to benefit farmers in both the Porterville and Lower Tule Irrigation districts.

Poplar Ditch

Anticipate water in the Poplar ditch when canal flow is allowed to continue further south, the Lower Tule district is now extending both branches of the ditch west of Poplar, the branch along Poplar highway to be extended

Careful Use Of Water Will Keep Tulare County In Position Near Top Of Nation's Agricultural Districts

Through careful use of water, Tulare county can maintain its place as second agricultural county in the nation, Irvin Althouse, Porterville engineer and authority on county and state water problems told members of the Porterville Rotary club Tuesday noon.

In discussing, "How Far To Water," Mr. Althouse pointed out that a million acre feet of water are being used in Tulare county each year; that only 700,000 acre feet is replaced through natural sources; that some 1,300,000 acre feet represents the ultimate need.

"We are far past the point of depending on our own water," he said. "We are pumping over 500

Hereford Cattle Association Votes To Hold 1950 Sale At Tulare County Fair Grounds In December

Members of the San Joaquin Valley Hereford association, meeting in Porterville Thursday evening, voted to hold their second annual sale at the Tulare County Fair grounds in Tulare during December of this year, with definite date now being worked out by officers of the association.

The sale will feature registered, Horned and Polled Hereford range

Clyde Simpson Named To County Education Board

Clyde Simpson, Springville, was this week named to the Tulare County Board of Education by the county board of supervisors, for a two-year term, replacing Charles E. Bigham, Porterville, who served on the county's education board for 43 years.

Mr. Simpson, superintendent of the Springville Elementary school district, is a graduate of both Porterville high school and college and the University of California at Los Angeles. He is a native of Springville.

Mr. Bigham is one of the old residence of Porterville, being active in school and community affairs for a number of years. In 1909 he became superintendent of schools in Porterville, serving for 37 years, then continuing in the school system for an additional year.

During his period of service to city and county schools he has been active in the great development that has come about during the past 40 years. A resolution of thanks for this service was adopted by the county board of supervisors at the Tuesday meeting.

"BELVEDERE" HAS SHARP ACTING SHARP LINES AND AN INTIMATE ASPECT FROM NEW CIRCLE STAGE

By BILL RODGERS

Reverting to the vernacular, we herewith state that the Barn theater production of "Belvedere" is sharp—the acting is sharp, the lines are sharp and the new circle stage, by giving the entire audience practically front-row seats, provides an air of intimacy that is entirely lacking on the conventional stage.

And it's surprising that with the mathematical fact being that the actors should have their backs to someone at least one quarter of the time, you never seem to notice the backs as the action moves along. Quite a thing, this circle staging, quite a thing. Perhaps Frank Meottel, director of the show, should take a bow on that.

All-in-all, Belvedere provides an evening of considerable entertainment, even though the final act seems to slow down just a little. Pete Tewksbury, as the self-

WATER COMES UP

Farmers report that water in wells adjacent to the Tule river is making a substantial rise as a result of Friant-Kern canal water running in the Tule river for the past several weeks and as a result of reduced pumping.

Indications are that water table in the area west of Porterville will be benefitted considerably as more and more Central Valley Project water is brought into the area.

HOSPITAL IS TALKED PRO AND CON

Political conversation in the southeastern Tulare county area is this week centering around the July 11 vote on a $325,000 bond issue to cover approximately one-third of the cost of a proposed Sierra View District hospital.

Actively opposing the bond issue and construction of a district hospital is the Porterville Taxpayers association; working in favor of the bond issue are: Citizens for the Sierra View Hospital.

Handling the campaign for the Taxpayers association is George W. Plumleigh; heading the Citizens for the Sierra View Hospital are co-chairmen, Douglas Beattie and Mrs. Marcus Jones, with committees to push the hospital deal being setup in the six communities included within the hospital district that covers the Porterville Union High School district and the southern part of the Strathmore Union High district.

Official Stand

In an effort to determine an official stand on the issue, the Porterville chamber of commerce is this week polling its membership, as to whether the chamber favor the hospital bond or oppose it. Ballots must be returned by Saturday, July 1 and a majority vote will determine future action by the chamber.

When the hospital district was formed about two years ago, the Porterville chamber was active in pushing that organization.

Plans For Gravilla Bridge Being Considered

Preliminary survey for the Gravilla street bridge across the Tule river was made this week by Road Commissioner Wayne Switzer, who was in Porterville Tuesday afternoon to look over the site with Supervisor Rodgers L. Moore.

Actual preparation of plans for the bridge is expected to start without delay and it is possible that the project will be ready to go before the end of the summer.

The bridge is of considerable importance, in that it will provide a crossing for use of persons residing south of Porterville and will no doubt carry increasing traffic as the state hospital, now under construction southeast of Porterville, continues to progress.

Location of the bridge was determined following a complete traffic and land use survey conducted last year by Earl Ingram, county planning engineer.

Construction of the bridge, and increased traffic that will follow opening of the state hospital also foreshadows considerable road improvement work on both sides of the river.

COUNTY AUDIT

Contract for auditing the records of the County of Tulare for the 1949-50 fiscal year has been awarded by the 1950 grand jury to Leo B. Welch, certified public accountant; Wm. W. McCullough and Co., Public Accountants and Robert S. Moore, public accountant, according to an announcement this week by Alfred W. Browning, Porterville, chairman of the grand jury auditing committee.

NEW OFFICE

Porterville office of the Department of Motor Vehicles is now operating at 109 East Willow St. in the rear of the D Street Van and Storage warehouse.

The office will be at this location until a new building is completed at Harrison and Third streets in Porterville.

SHOOTING

Carl Trigg, Terra Bella rancher, was still in critical condition yesterday morning at the New Porterville Hospital, suffering from two bullet wounds allegedly inflicted by Robert Guthrie, California Hot Springs rancher, at the Guthrie ranch Friday night.

Mr. Guthrie, being held in the county jail, has made no official statement concerning the shooting, which, according to officers, climaxed a drinking party.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jones, Porterville, this week returned from a trip to Portland, Oregon, where they attended the All-Arabian Horse show.

Now permanent pastures every 6 or 8 weeks to cut down tall grass and weed growth and promote more uniform usage of the pastures.

HOSPITAL

(Continued from Page 1) for the Sierra View Hospital held last evening, the statement was issued that "the purpose of the organization is to bring before the people the necessity for the hospital bond issue, which will make the hospital possible."

Statement

Mr. Beattie and Mrs. Jones state, "We are sincerely interested in presenting to the people the honest facts relative to the Sierra View hospital. These facts will be based primarily upon the survey report compiled by Richard Stull, hospital consultant who is now director of hospitals and infirmaries of the University of California. He is in charge of training programs for hospital managers and superintendents."

It is also called to attention that persons who will be away on vacation July 11 must file their absentee ballots prior to July 6. Ballots may be obtained from Maxine Olsen at 304 Putnam avenue, Porterville.

Statement that will appear on the July 11 ballot is: "Shall Sierra View Local Hospital district incur a bonded indebtedness in the principal sum of $325,000 for the purpose of paying a portion of the cost of acquisition and construction of said district of a certain work and improvement to-wit: the construction and equipment of a general hospital and the improvement and landscaping of the hospital grounds, including the acquisition of all land, furniture, furnishings, apparatus, equipment and other property necessary therefor?"

With the proposed bond issue of $325,000 representing approximately one-third of estimated hospital cost, balance is being sought from the state of California and the federal government.

FRESH PEACH GRADES, SIZE ESTABLISHED

The Woodville group appeared before the Porterville board in order to secure information on attitude of board members concerning the proposed move and also necessary procedure to accomplish the change.

Other major business of the board included adoption of the 1950-51 budget for the high school and college of $798,000 and a review of preliminary plans of Architect Bob Kaesner for construction of additional classrooms and other improvement of the existing school grounds.

Water To Move

Both the Porterville and Lower Tule districts plan to put water in the Poplar ditch when Friant-Kern canal flow reaches the Poplar ditch outlet. It is expected that water will flow in the ditch until about the first of September.

Water now being delivered is Class 2, selling at $1.50 per acre foot at the canal. Ranchers are paying $1.00 per acre per irrigation in the Porterville and Lower Tule districts.

the fruit. Such diameters are commonly described by ring measure. A five per cent tolerance allowance by count of peaches is allowed for sizes smaller than minimum sizes allowed.

The minimum size established for the Mayflower variety is two inches; for Florence, Robins, Alexander, Babcock, Jubilee and similar varieties the minimum size is two and one-eighth inches, and for all other varieties the minimum size is two and three-eighths inches.

When the peaches are packed the maximum variation of the fruit in any one container must not exceed three-eighths of an inch in diameter when measured through the widest portion of the cross section. All peaches prepared for market for resale shall be place packed.

At the Terra Bella meeting, members of the Orange Belt Highway association emphasized the need for "speedy action" in improving highway 65, and while Mr. Gillis said that because of traffic conditions, improvement of 99 highway has top priority in Tulare county, he also stated that he did not see why work on 65 need wait until all work had been completed on highway 99.

Presiding at the Terra Bella meeting was Homer Gordinier, president of the Orange Belt Highway association; Harold Rainwater, manager of the Tulare county chamber of commerce served as master of ceremonies and dinner was prepared by the "Clipper Club" of Terra Bella.

Primary purpose of the Porterville Planning commission meeting with Mr. Scott in Fresno was to study latest plans of the state in order to coordinate a street improvement program within the city of Porterville.

At the Fresno meeting were: Irvin Althouse, chairman of the Planning commission; Harold Corbin, Porterville city manager; Don Baird, city engineer; Everett Howell, A. K. Hodgson and Howard Link of the commission and Bill Rodgers of the road committee of the Porterville chamber of commerce.

Use Of Soil Sulphur Is Not Recommended For Control Of Red Spider In Cotton

In response to numerous inquiries from cotton farmers, the Agricultural Extension service in Tulare county advises that the application of soil sulphur on the ground for mite control on cotton is not recommended. Experience has shown that this sort of treatment is generally not effective in reducing red spider mite population and damage.

"In discussing this situation with Harold Madsen, extension specialist in entomology, he informs us that the generally poor results from the use of soil sulphur is due to the fact that the particle size is too large," stated Farm Advisor Ralph L. Worrell.

"The amount of fuming done by sulphur is in ratio to the size of the particles. It takes small sized particles to have much fuming action. Soil sulphur is not ground fine enough for much fuming to result."

Tolerance Allowance Set For Plums, Peaches

The director of agriculture has approved amendments to plum and peach regulations effective June 28 applying tolerance allowance for size to any one container. In other words, assuming the tolerance is 5 per cent, the number of plums or peaches in any one container may vary from the size stated in the regulations by 5 per cent. Thus the tolerance is to be applied only on that basis and not on the basis of the number of packages.

Director also issued regulation for plums of tragedy variety effective June 28 requiring grade U. S. No. 1 with additional tolerance of 15 per cent for defects not serious.

Size: Ninety per cent or more of plums in any container must exceed one and seven sixteenths (1-7/16) inches, remaining portion in any container must exceed one and five sixteenths inches.

Maturity: Thirty per cent of surface purple or fifteen per cent distinctly purple.

Pack: Variation in size not over one fourth inches.

Sophie D. Ignatieff, Terra Bella, was this week granted United States citizenship by Superior Court Judge Frank Lamberson.

"Getting Around" by Harold & Rainwater

June is "Dairy Month" throughout the nation and a good time to call attention to the farmers who produce our milk and milk products.

The dairy industry in Tulare county has boosted our agricultural economy. In 1949 alone, farmers here were paid nearly $14,000,000 for their milk products.

By way of statistics, there are 2,000 farmers in Tulare county who own 50,000 milk-producing cows. That's a lot of milk by any man's reckoning.

There's something about watching Boy Scouts go about the serious business of scouting that brings back your youth. Before Tulare county scouts left for the big jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., they camped out at Mooney's Grove for three days.

If you looked real close, you could see proud parents drive by the camping grounds to get a glimpse of Junior all slicked up in his khaki Scout uniform, learning the things he had to know at the jamboree.

For the lucky Scouts and their leaders of the Mt. Whitney Area council the trip back east is a wonderful vacation. They will be treated to lunch at the Ford plant in Dearborn, Michigan, and visit the nation's capital, as well as other historic American places.

Tulare county, in recent years, has become the scene of an influx of writers and artists and people in show business who have bought ranches and farms, not as a lark but to keep up their incomes.

Dorothy Baker, the famous author of "Young Man With A Horn," lives on a Terra Bella ranch. One of the best orange ranches in the county is owned by Douglas Beattie, formerly with the Metropolitan opera in New York City.

The late Walter Huston, as fine an actor as ever trod the boards, owned a ranch here. It is rumored that Fibber McGee and Molly have purchased a ranch in Tulare County. And, of course, you all know about Carroll Barnes of Three Rivers, and his redwood sculpture.

Jedebiah S. Smith, a preacher of sorts, and Thomas L. (Peg Leg) Smith, a teacher of sorts, were two of the earliest arrivals in Tulare county.

Jed got here in 1826, history tells us, with a band of 15 trappers, becoming the first white man to cross the Sierra Nevada mountains. His party was successful in hunting for beaver, but Jed was unsuccessful in his efforts to reform the lawless men in his band.

Added expansion now contemplates "Peg Leg" got here sometime between 1827 and 1830. He was a horse thief who confined his "teaching" to instructing the Indians in the best ways to steal cattle and horses for him. Later "Peg Leg" got into a fight with some Indians. Folklore has it that he calmly amputated his leg at the knee with his own hunting knife.

Exchange Advertises Fresh Oranges

A strong advertising campaign on valencia oranges is underway in every major market of the country, according to Russell Z. Eller, advertising manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange. The campaign started with the first shipments of valencias from Central-Northern California and has expanded to keep pace with increasing shipments from the southern part of the state.

"Sunkist advertising this summer will be strongly competitive, featuring the superiority of fresh fruit over canned or concentrated products," states Mr. Eller. "We must do everything possible to maintain consumer demand for fresh oranges if we are to show our members the best return for all of their fruit."

The amount of money being spent for advertising by other producing areas, particularly Florida, has been constantly increasing, Mr. Eller said. Florida is currently spending about a million dollars annually, substantially more than in the past. Total advertising on fresh oranges by Florida and California is slightly over $2 million annually.

Frozen concentrate advertising by all manufacturers during 1950 is estimated at $4 million, twice that being spent on fresh oranges. Although frozen concentrated orange juice has made strides in the past three years, the per capita consumption of fresh oranges has remained steady. This shows that concentrated and canned juices have actually expanded the total market for oranges, Eller said.

In the Sunkist campaign on valencias, newspapers will carry the major section of the schedule. Advertisements will appear in 495 papers in 344 leading markets. This series of advertisements, very competitive in nature, will blanket all of the markets of the country and will have a total readership of 40 million people.

DELINQUENT TAXES

All property on which taxes have not been paid in Tulare county will be deeded to the county tomorrow, June 30, it has been announced by Tax Collector W. E. Rippy.

Branching into other fields is V. C. Farmer, owner of Farmers Tractor and Equipment company in Porterville, who now owns and operates the Panther Creek Lodge as a summer resort deal just off highway 101 at the mouth of the Klamath river.

Mr. Farmer, who is now building up a motor at his Porterville shop to be used in an excursion boat, states that the season is just starting at his resort and that it is reported salmon have started to run.

He also tells of excellent steelhead and cutthroat fishing and of the beautiful scenery along the river. Incidentally, Mr. Farmer states that Tulare county people who might plan to stop at his resort should write or phone ahead for reservations. Location is at Requa, California.

THE FIRST successful transfer of the rust resistant qualities of feed wheat to the bread wheats was accomplished by Prof. E. S. McFadden, agronomist at the Texas Agricultural Experiment station. The development of his Hope wheat halted wheat rust which threatened much of the crop in the nation's bread basket, the Middle West. Prof. McFadden appears in a new motion picture, "Waves of Green," a documentary tribute to land grant colleges, produced by the Dearborn Motor Corp., Detroit. National premier of the picture in Nashville, North Carolina, will be followed by special showings on state college campuses throughout the nation.

Despite a heavy bloom, only a moderate prune crop is now indicated in California.

WATER FIGHTS SHAPES UP ON SAN JOAQUIN USE

Thirteen irrigation districts of Tulare county organized last week to fight a federal suit aimed at preventing San Joaquin river water from flowing through the Friant-Kern canal of the Central valley project.

The suit is a quest for a restraining order, filed in federal court in Los Angeles, which would prevent San Joaquin river water from going through the Friant dam and the Friant-Kern canal. The San Joaquin river landowners contend their land "will dry up" with the water held back by the Friant dam.

Leroy McCormick, attorney, contends that the new use of the San Joaquin river water "is a higher and better use of this water for irrigation." He said that San Joaquin river ranchers will be able to obtain water from pumping and other means.

Attorneys employed in the legal defense are Mr. McCormick, James Abercrombie, John Locke, of Visalia; Calvin Russell, Tulare, and James McBride, Lindsay.

Irrigation districts represented at the meeting were the Lindsay-Strathmore Irrigation District, Earlimart-Delano, Chowchilla, Madera, Orange Cove, Ivanhoe, Tulare, Exeter, Lower Tule, Porterville, Saucelito, Terra Bella and Lindmore.

APRICOTS

Indications now point toward a lighter apple crop in California than last year, according to the California Crop and Livestock Reporting service.

BUSINESS MEN of Porterville and other residents of the southeastern Tulare county area will be disappointed to learn that the annual San Joaquin Valley Hereford association sale will not be held in Porterville this year, however, it just wasn't in the cards to bring the 1950 sale to Porterville.

ORIGINALLY IT had been hoped that the 1950 junior livestock show and community fair in Porterville would show sufficient profit to make it possible for the board of directors to start planning a permanent fair location and to construct a building that would be suitable for not only fair use but for a livestock sales pavilion as well.

IF THIS could have been done, there is little doubt but that the 1950 Hereford sale would have been brought to Porterville. But financial return from Porterville's 1950 fair was such that construction of a building at this time is out of the question as far as the fair board is concerned and the facilities that Porterville has to offer in the way of its present fair livestock barns and general setup at the Rocky Hill arena just does not compare with the Tulare County fair facilities at Tulare.

EVERYTHING CONSIDERED, members of the Hereford association came to a logical conclusion when they decide to move their sale to Tulare this year. If Porterville wants this sale, and other sales of its type, in the future, it is up to the community, possibly through its existing junior livestock show and community fair board, to devise some sort of plan whereby adequate facilities can be made available.

Range Good

General range and pasture conditions in California are "good", according to a report by the California Crop and Livestock Reporting service, with overall prospects for the summer the best in two years.

Condition in the southeastern San Joaquin valley, however, is not as good as in other parts of the state. Officially, the range and pasture condition throughout the state is 81 per cent of normal.

FIGS

California fig production will probably be somewhat below last year, with 70 per cent of a full crop indicated as compared to 84 per cent estimated at this time last year.

$1,831,284 SUIT

Two suits, totaling $1,831,284, have been filed by Kings county cotton growers in connection with alleged damage to their crops through use of 2-4,D as an airplane spray in grain fields adjacent to their cotton fields.

The action named as defendants three insecticides manufacturing firms, the Dow Chemical company, the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing company and the L. H. Butcher company; sales representative H. R. Hirsch and his employees; the operators of an airplane crop dusting company, Percy M. and Maxine L. Whiteside; their agents, Forrest Shook, William Halley and Joseph Bargas and the ranch firm of Crockett and Gambogly.

The plaintiffs are the Salyer Land Company, the J. G. Boswell company, the Tulare Lake Land Company and the Richland Farms. They charge the 2-4,D was carried by the wind onto their cotton fields causing damage to and destroying the cotton.

A California walnut crop of 59,000 tons is now being estimated by the California Crop and Livestock Reporting service. This would amount to about three-quarters of the volume of the record crop of 1949, now being estimated at 78,000 tons.

WHOSE "EXPRESSED WISHES" THE PEOPLE'S? OR THOSE OF CERTAIN SPECIAL INTERESTS?

Mr. Williams, head of the Sierra View Hospital District recently made the following statement as published in the Recorder June 19th, 1950:

"The board is attempting to carry out the expressed wishes of the people of the district."

The question naturally arises JUST WHAT ARE THE PEOPLE'S EXPRESSED WISHES?

Remember that the people have had only one opportunity to express their wishes, that being the election held on Oct. 14th, 1947, we will

LET MR. WILLIAMS HIMSELF ANSWER THE ABOVE QUESTION:

"This election next Tuesday is only to establish a district so an authoritative body of directors can make a study and report back to the people their recommendations and can tell the people how much it will cost. That is in fact all this election is for. The people can accept or reject the Board's recommendations at another election. This is state hospital law."

The above quotation from Mr. Williams was published in the Recorder Oct. 8, 1947. According to this the people did not vote to establish a hospital at that time, and they have never since that time so expressed themselves. Draw your own conclusions as to the statements put out by the Board, and Vote "NO" July 11th!!

"OVER 21" OPENS JULY 6 AT BARN THEATER

Take a man who in one year will be forty, put him in Officer's Candidate school and expect him to learn in six weeks what the Army has scientifically proven cannot be learned by men "Over 21" and here is the basis of the next Barn Theater show opening July 6th and running the week end through the 9th, and the following week end July 13-16.

"Over 21" will present several familiar faces to Barn Theater goers as Ann B. Davis, Max Denning, Mac Halliday, Barbara Wallace and Ellie Sanford sound off in this fast moving three act comedy by Ruth Gordon.

Others in the cast include: Michael Osker, the Barn's latest addition to its summer nucleus, from Stanford, Connecticut; Barbara Wallace, Jim Keatley, Karl Jolliffe, Tots Holliday and Marguerite Davis, the later a recent arrival from Erie, Pa.

YWCA Concludes Spring Business

Spring business was concluded at a meeting of the board of directors of the Central San Joaquin Valley YWCA held this week at the home of Mrs. D. S. Longacre in Lindsay, with Mrs. Maurice Peatross, Porterville board president, presiding.

Considered were summer camp plans, finances, membership, Y-Teen program and other business. The board voted to invite Miss Mildred Burnham to continue in the position of executive director for the coming year. Named on a personnel committee were: Mesdames H. J. Frick, chairman, J. Paul Peterson, Amy Longacre, and Miss Ione Cochran.

Attending from the southern Tulare county area were: Mrs. Peatross, Margaret Billings, Mrs. Peterson and Mrs. W. W. Frick, Porterville; Mesdames W. S. Cairns, E. F. Gruenemay and J. R. McBride, Lindsay and Mesdames Frick and Robert Longley, Strathmore.

FLAVOR CALLED "VOICE" OF BUTTER

By DON M. KRUSE
Farm Advisor

Flavor is the "voice" of foods and, in butter, is of principal importance in the values people recognize. For this reason, it is rated first, but it takes both smell and taste to determine flavor.

Every carton of butter stamped with the shield-shaped emblem of the Federal butter grading service is packed with quality butter, tasted and tested for you by expert Government butter graders. The quality rating, or grade, given to butter by this impartial grading service is printed in the emblem.

The grade names "U.S. Grade AA" and "U.S. Grade A" are the quality ratings most often seen on butter cartons in the retail store. For those who prefer a mild, fresh, sweet flavor, Grade AA is top; Grade A is a very close second.

Other grades that are less frequently found on the market are "B" and "C". Both of these are highly nutritious and good food values, but lack some of the fine, sweet flavor of the two top grades.

Will you dead by next Friday? Every holiday the radio stations and daily papers report the deaths in breathless zip . . . excitement mounts by the hour. Each report gives the box-score and the announcers sound broken hearted if they can't show a total to match the predictions. Reporters happily brag if the record is broken. Maybe it's fun to kill people; but I doubt it's fun to die! If you must join the high way parade, take care. Have your car checked carefully first. EBBERT'S MOBILE PRODUCTS SERVICE STATION on W. Olive at Indiana will give your car a thorough going over. Safe tires are a necessity . . . Ebbert's sells them at Farm Bureau rates.

Don't celebrate in the cemetery!

Hollywood . . . Goof town! Big news . . . "was Jane Cowl's ONLY HUSBAND"! Just shows you how freakish you are if you've been struggling along with only one! Better hang around here in the sticks with us . . . Hollywood'll put you in a side show. Some think even one husband a handful! Yours worries you by leaving watch and pen in his pockets when he sends clothes to be cleaned. All wives heckle husbands about that . . . all husbands say they searched. Stop worrying . . . send the clothes to PROCTORS CLEANERS. Every pocket is searched at Proctor's before cleaning begins.

69,189 extra loaves of bread! On top of their regular output, Sunlight Bakery had made that many extra loaves to be carted off to San Bernardino and L.A. in the week ending Tuesday noon! And you talk about long hours over a hot stove! Their slicing and wrapping machine never stopped for 33 hours, its longest stretch! Saturday, the biggest day, they turned out 24,000 extra loaves. That's a lotta dough! Smell of fresh bread coming out 24 hours a day has caused me to snack up all my salami and cheese. Off to the ITALIAN CASH GROCERY on W. Olive for a new supply. Treat your family to finer food from the Prandini's. Save yourself effort; shop at the Italian Cash Grocery where you can buy everything at one stop, including wines, beer and bottles . . . no meters, lots of parking room.

Don't rush and be hospitalized!

Feeling a little low? An orange bathing suit will cheer you up. With the world sad, you might as well make one bright spot in it. I know a woman who did just that and feels better, so will all the standers-by. For your vacation and for the week-end jaunts, take plenty of snap-shots. Happy times are few enough, save them on film. Be sure to have EDWARD'S PHOTOGRAPHY STUDIO develop and print them, drop them at the Studio on S. Olive at Villa is the new site of the WESTERN FLOOR COVERING CO. For your convenience, they have a perfect show room so you can see just how your floor will look. Theirs is wall-to-wall work and offers the finest craftsmanship and best of materials. Linoleums, asphalt tile, rubber tile, and carpets laid by Western Floor Covering are best for homes, churches, schools, offices . . . any place you need a floor covered.

Funerals aren't cheaper by the dozen!

IN ANY decorative plan the floors are all-important. A good looking floor is as essential to the beauty of a room as are attractive walls and furnishings. This modestly decorated room has been planned "from the floor up." It utilizes to good advantage the mellow natural beauty of oak flooring as an integral part of the motif. The gleaming oak lends distinction and dignity, heightens "floor appeal." An added advantage is the economy effected in floor covering. Adaptable to any decorative plan, oak floors retain their beauty of grain and coloring indefinitely.

Cotton Stem Bulging Caused By Hot Soil

By RALPH L. WORRELL
Farm Advisor

Many inquiries are being received by the Farm Advisor's Office in Tulare County about a peculiar collar condition or bulging of the stem of young cotton plants just above the soil surface. This condition has become widespread throughout Tulare county, particularly on light sandy soils.

In many cases this has been caused by hot surface soil being thrown up around the base of the cotton plants by cultivation. When the temperature of the air is up around 100 to 105 degrees as was the case a week or two ago, the young cotton plants can be damaged by the hot surface soil.

Moisture is dried out of the stem of the plants causing a shrinking of the tissues for an area perhaps an inch or two in length. Later when the top of the plant gets heavier or winds occur, the plants will frequently break over at this point.

This is a physical condition of the plants and the only control measure is to watch the handling of the soil. If possible, dirt should not be thrown up around the base of the young cotton plants until they are older and the bark is sufficiently developed to withstand this higher temperature.

METEOR

A number of southern Tulare county people saw a bright, smoke-trailing meteor that appeared in the north sky at about 9:20 P.M. last Saturday night. The meteor was seen at many points in Central California.

Wheat Forecast

California wheat production, as of June 1, is estimated at 12,766,000 bushels (379,800 tons) as compared to 11,470,000 bushels, (344,100 tons) produced last year, according to the California Crop and Livestock Reporting service.

Ten-year average for wheat production in the state is 11,037,000 bushels (331,110 tons). Estimated acreage for harvest this year is 633,000 acres, compared to 631,000 last year.

THE OLD DAYS

From miscellaneous files of pioneer Porterville newspapers, provided through the courtesy of Howard J. Frame, Porterville.

PORTERVILLE ENTERPRISE January 5, 1889

The brick walls of the new hotel are now reared to the height of the first story, but work had to be suspended for a few days owing to the lumber required not being on hand in San Francisco, but it is expected here in a few days when the work of construction will proceed again.

The contractor, Henry Rogers, had done all in his power to push the work forward, but it is difficult here to get the material required and the weather at this season of the year causes innumerable delays.

The building will be two stories and an attic, the lower floor to be occupied by a banking company, the Pioneer and company's office, a bar, hotel office, dining room, kitchen, etc. The upper floor will be divided up into about 35 bedrooms, of good size, with plenty of ventilation.

The new hotel is the pride of our town and when completed will be an ornate to the place. The hotel part can be leased by responsible parties having sufficient capital to furnish it in first-class style, and it will undoubtedly prove a paying investment.

An accident occurred on the railroad last Saturday which came near proving serious. W. A. Johnson, a section foreman at Lynny, accompanied by his wife and children, Miss Prothero and a couple of railroad hands, were returning to that place on a hand car after visiting Porterville.

When they were near their destination, Mr. Johnson, while endeavoring to wrap a shawl around one of the little ones, lost his balance and fell under the wheels in front of the moving car. It passed over his body, throwing the car off the track and bruising himself considerably. The other occupants were considerably jarred and some of them slightly bruised. Dr. Whitlock was summoned and the injured ones are now all right again.

The frosts which have visited this place a few mornings recently are thought by some to have injured the orange crop, but in conversation with several orange growers here we learn that such has not been the case. The fruit has a lively demand, 25 cents per dozen being paid for them on the trees.

Dr. J. L. Hardeman, formerly of San Diego, has located permanently in Porterville and can be found at Mrs. Conner's residence for the present. He comes highly recommended and those requiring the services of a physician will do well to give him a trial.

Don't forget that the Enterprise office is now located on Second street directly opposite J. D. Billingsley's livery stable, where we can always be found ready to attend promptly to the wants of our patrons.

VERTICILLIUM WILT REPORTED IN TULARE COUNTY COTTON FIELDS; FARM ADVISOR DESCRIBES DISEASE

By RALPH L. WORRELL
Farm Advisor

Reports being received by the Agricultural Extension Service in Tulare county show that Verticillium Wilt of cotton is showing up wide-spread throughout the County.

This disease is a common disease of cotton in the San Joaquin valley, and not a new one. It has occurred throughout the cotton belt of California for many years.

Verticillium Wilt is a soil fungus. It enters the roots of plants and travels up the stem. Plant tissues affected by the fungus become rotted and unable to conduct a full supply of moisture. Although Verticillium Wilt spreads mostly during cool weather, such as was experienced a week or two ago, the effects of the fungus do not show until periods of high temperature when the plants have a greater requirement for water.

Typical symptoms of Verticillium Wilt are yellow spots or patches on the leaves, which may later turn brown and die. A brown discoloration occurs in the stem. Severely infected plants may lose their leaves, and occasionally smaller plants may die.

Usually plants infected with the Verticillium Wilt recover and produce a fair crop. On plants which have lost most of their leaves, new shoots start up from the stem. These may set on a fair crop of bolls. The crop may be two or three weeks later than that on unaffected plants, but the bolls will usually mature unless an unusually early frost occurs.

There is no control of the fungus after the crop is planted. Farmers should strive to maintain good growing conditions for the plants. An ample supply of water should be provided through irrigation, but the plants should not be over-irrigated.

Regular fertilization and insect control practices should be followed. Land which shows a severe infestation of Verticillium should be planted to non-susceptible crops next year, such as corn, milo, sudan, grain, or irrigated pasture. If possible, the cotton should be placed on land which has been planted for several years to one of these other crops.

Frozen Citrus Products Increase

An estimated four million gallons of frozen citrus concentrates will be manufactured in California this year, double the amount of last year, according to Clem Meith, farm advisor.

Most of the concentrate is being sold in six-ounce cans; a ton of Valencia oranges will produce about 100 gallons of single strength juice or 25 gallons of frozen concentrate. A box yields a gallon of frozen concentrate.

Sulphur Dust Best Control For Silver Mite

Application of sulphur dust is the best method for control of the peach silver mite that attacks county peach orchards during mid-summer, turning leaves a silver color.

Recommended is 20 pounds of sulphur dust under ideal conditions; 25 pounds if conditions are not ideal; 30 pounds for airplane application. Apply dust at least 10 days before thinning or picking, since the dust is hard on the eyes of workers.

Lemon Products Plant Expansion Doubles Capacity

Howard Hall, manager of the Exchange Lemon Products company, at Corona, this week, announced a further expansion will be made in the Exchange Lemon Products juice facilities. This expansion will again double the capacity for the production of juice products and is in addition to the building program started some months ago now completed and in operation.

Mr. Hall stated that current use of lemons for the manufacture of juice products by the Exchange Lemon Products company is running in excess of 400 tons daily. This is the equivalent of approximately 750 cars of packed fruit monthly. The company's production of frozen and canned lemon juice products during the current season will be the largest in the industry.

Added expansion now contemplated will provide facilities which will be more than ample to meet increasing demand for juice products, particularly frozen juices, both concentrated and single strength and frozen lemonade concentrate. The facilities now being will provide an additional capacity of approximately 500 tons daily for the manufacture of these juice products.

Imperial Valley cantaloupe deal is still active, although season peak has been passed.

Editor Farm Tribune

Dear Sir:

In the minds of some people who favor the proposition of a community hospital there is a mistaken notion that it is to be a free hospital. This is not the case at all. Consider this quotation from a report made by Mr. Williams, chairman of the District Board, at the time of the election for forming the district. "Some misconceptions that must be corrected by statements of fact are (Here listed numbered items of information of which Number 6 reads as follows:) "6. This proposed district hospital is not a free hospital. It is intended to be self-supporting but non-profit."

Hereford Sale To Be Held At Tulare

a rigid screening committee will pass on all animals prior to their acceptance for the sale.

A two-day event is being planned by the association with first day to feature a Hereford show in which all sale cattle will be entered, with all cattle in the show to be sold the following day. An evening banquet is being arranged following the show and prior to the sale.

Announcement of the sale location as the Tulare fair grounds killed hopes of Porterville business men that the sale would be held in Porterville, where the association was organized and the first sale held last year. Porterville's junior livestock show and community fair group had sought to make necessary facilities available, however, it was not possible to do so for the 1950 Hereford sale.

Committee to arrange management of the sale was named at the Porterville meeting as: Milton Hadley, Visalia, president of the association; F. R. Farnsworth, Porterville, vice president and Ed. Webb, Lindsay, secretary.

Other committees include: Banquet—Merle L. Soultis, Tulare, chairman; F. E. Crews, Laton; L. H. Frasher, Lindsay and Floyd Slocum, Hanford; Banquet entertainment—Mr. Farnsworth, chairman; Bob Vanderhoof, Woodlake and Art Seguin and Omer Avery, Porterville.

Next quarterly meeting of the association is slated for October, with arrangements in charge of Theo. L. Cairns, Lindsay and Dick Giddings, Porterville.

Attending the Porterville meeting were: Messers and Mesdames Theo. L. Cairns, S. E. Walters, L. H. Frasher, Luther Patterson, Ed. G. Webb and Mr. Lester Miller, Lindsay; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hadley and Mrs. J. H. Hadley, Visalia; Bill Rodgers and Messers and Mesdames Art O. Seguin, Cyrille O. Faure and J. R. Giddings, Porterville; Mr. and Mrs. Merle L. Soultis, Tulare; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Slocum, Hanford; Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Crews, Laton and George J. Nielsen, representing the "Pacific Stockman."

Careful Use Of Water Necessary

vey in Tulare county; by 1930 it was general knowledge that a water shortage existed in the San conditions, the bonds were not sold, and the project was actually started at Friant dam in 1937 by the federal government.

"Now Friant dam is practically completed," Mr. Althouse said. "A few weeks ago, farmers in the Porterville area began receiving Central Valley Project water and by 1952 or 1953, the project should be completed and we should be receiving Class 1 water."

Mr. Althouse discussed various plans to bring additional water to the San Joaquin valley—a tiein with the Columbia river; the Reber plan for San Francisco bay; the use of purified sea water—stating that all of them involve expense, as well as other factors, that make them of doubtful value at present. He also told of some Joaquin valley; in 1933 California voters approved a $170 million bond issue to start construction of the Central Valley project, however, because of economic of the changing interpretation of water rights in the state.

"But we are making progress," he said, stating that through careful use of new water now being made available, Tulare county can maintain its agricultural greatness.

TWO RACING EVENTS SLATED OVER FOURTH

A holiday week-end of thrills awaits speed fans at the Porterville Speed Bowl over the Fourth of July, with two major racing events scheduled.

On Saturday night, the Central Valley Racing Association will stage its weekly race program with a full program of hot rod racing attracting well known drivers from over the state.

In addition to the regular fare of the roadsters, Managing Director Loron Bartlett has announced a special event for the entertainment of the fans—something that has not been produced on the local oval. He promises it to be the most highly entertaining feature of the season.

On July Fourth, the Mt. Whitney Motorcycle Club will sponsor Class "C" quarter-mile novice motorcycle racing, with a big nine event program in store for spectators. Some thirty-five riders from the San Joaquin Valley and Southern California are expected to compete in the thrilling races.

The motorcycle time trials will get under way at 7 P. M. and the racing program will begin at 8 P. M. with the trophy dash, followed by eight thrill-filled races climaxed by the big main event.

Cool to look at; cool to taste! What could be more appealing on a sultry summer day than this luscious Coconut Lime Chiffon Pie. And best of all—especially if you are the one to do it—it's cool to make because this lovely dessert never sees the inside of an oven. That's right—not even for baking the shell. The refrigerator does the job.

You see, this Coconut Lime Chiffon Pie boasts a tasty graham cracker crust—and that, of course, can be put together in no time and then chilled. Without benefit of oven, it is crisp, tender, and delicious.

The filling is whipped-until-fluffy lime-flavored gelatin—a fresh, cool green that makes this pie a real appetizer. It is topped with whipped cream, generously sprinkled with frosty white coconut. A really heavenly dessert with so little effort—and no hot-weather-baking discomfort!

Coconut Lime Chiffon Pie

1 package lime-flavored gelatin	$\frac{1}{2}$ cup cream, whipped
$1\frac{1}{2}$ cups hot water	1 cup shredded coconut, cut
$\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt	1 Graham Cracker Pie Shell
2 teaspoons lemon juice

Dissolve gelatin in the hot water. Add salt and lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Then place in bowl of ice and water and beat with rotary egg beater until fluffy and thick like whipped cream. Fold about one-third of the whipped cream and $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of the coconut into the whipped gelatin and turn into Graham Cracker Pie Shell. Spread with remaining whipped cream and sprinkle with $\frac{1}{2}$ cup coconut. Chill. Graham Cracker Pie Shell: Mix together $\frac{1}{2}$ cup melted butter, $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups fine graham cracker crumbs, and 2 tablespoons sugar. Press firmly on bottom and sides of 9-inch pie pan. Chill.

HAY GOOD

Condition of alfalfa hay in California at this season of the year is the best since 1946, according to the California Crop and Livestock Reporting service, with growers cutting the second crop now in most major producing areas.
